Urban Trees

Trees lower street temperatures, absorb some air pollutants, and make neighborhoods more attractive. Yet planting campaigns sometimes fail because species are poorly chosen or young trees receive little care. Long-term maintenance is as important as the number planted.

1. Which TWO statements are supported by the text?

- A. Trees lower street temperatures, absorb some air pollutants, and make neighborhoods more attractive.
- B. The text states that the activity was cancelled permanently.
- C. Long-term maintenance is as important as the number planted.
- D. The project happened without any clear purpose.
- E. The main participants refused to take part.

2. Which TWO conclusions can reasonably be inferred?

- A. The action described may create benefits beyond a single person.
- B. The people involved are trying to solve a practical problem.
- C. The activity had no effect on the community.
- D. The writer suggests that no planning was needed.
- E. The text proves that every participant disagreed.

3. Which TWO purposes best describe the text?

- A. to inform readers about an activity, issue, or initiative
- B. to give instructions for a competitive sport
- C. to advertise an unrelated luxury product
- D. to explain actions and their possible results
- E. to entertain readers with an impossible fantasy

4. Consider the word “temperatures” in the text. Which TWO statements about it are most appropriate?

- A. a number showing the exact page
- B. a personal name that replaces the writer
- C. a word connected with the main topic
- D. a term whose meaning can be understood from nearby information
- E. a punctuation mark ending every paragraph

5. Which TWO evaluations of the text are accurate?

- A. The title and content are completely unrelated.
- B. The information is organized so readers can connect actions with outcomes.
- C. The passage avoids all references to actions or results.
- D. The text includes specific details that support its main idea.
- E. The text contains only unsupported personal insults.

Media Algorithms

Recommendation algorithms help users discover relevant content, but they may repeatedly show similar viewpoints. This can narrow exposure to different ideas. Platforms could give users more control over recommendations and explain why particular content appears.

6. Which TWO statements are supported by the text?

- A. Recommendation algorithms help users discover relevant content, but they may repeatedly show similar viewpoints.
- B. The project happened without any clear purpose.
- C. Platforms could give users more control over recommendations and explain why particular content appears.
- D. The main participants refused to take part.
- E. The text states that the activity was cancelled permanently.

7. Which TWO conclusions can reasonably be inferred?

- A. The text proves that every participant disagreed.
- B. The writer suggests that no planning was needed.
- C. The activity had no effect on the community.
- D. The action described may create benefits beyond a single person.
- E. The people involved are trying to solve a practical problem.

8. Which TWO purposes best describe the text?

- C. The information is organized so readers can connect actions with outcomes.
- D. The passage avoids all references to actions or results.
- E. The text includes specific details that support its main idea.

Water Security

Rapid urban growth increases demand for clean water while reducing natural absorption areas. Cities can respond by repairing leaks, protecting watersheds, collecting rainwater, and encouraging efficient use. No single measure is sufficient on its own.

11. Which TWO statements are supported by the text?

- A. Rapid urban growth increases demand for clean water while reducing natural absorption areas.
- B. The text states that the activity was cancelled permanently.
- C. The main participants refused to take part.
- D. The project happened without any clear purpose.
- E. No single measure is sufficient on its own.

- C. The title and content are completely unrelated.
- D. The information is organized so readers can connect actions with outcomes.
- E. The passage avoids all references to actions or results.

Volunteer Programs

Short-term volunteer programs can provide useful assistance, but they may also create dependency when local priorities are ignored. Effective programs are designed with communities, transfer skills, and evaluate whether benefits continue after volunteers leave.

16. Which TWO statements are supported by the text?

- A. Effective programs are designed with communities, transfer skills, and evaluate whether benefits continue after volunteers leave.
- B. Short-term volunteer programs can provide useful assistance, but they may also create dependency when local priorities are ignored.

- C. The text includes specific details that support its main idea.
- D. The text contains only unsupported personal insults.
- E. The title and content are completely unrelated.

Workplace Communication

Teams often focus on speaking clearly but underestimate the importance of listening. Active listening involves checking understanding, asking relevant questions, and noticing concerns that are not stated directly. These habits can prevent small misunderstandings from becoming costly conflicts.

21. Which TWO statements are supported by the text?

- A. The text states that the activity was cancelled permanently.
- B. Teams often focus on speaking clearly but underestimate the importance of listening.
- C. These habits can prevent small misunderstandings from becoming costly conflicts.

- C. The information is organized so readers can connect actions with outcomes.
- D. The passage avoids all references to actions or results.
- E. The title and content are completely unrelated.

Scientific Uncertainty

Scientific conclusions sometimes change when better evidence becomes available. This does not mean the scientific process has failed. Revision is a strength because explanations are expected to respond to new data rather than remain fixed.

26. Which TWO statements are supported by the text?

- A. The text states that the activity was cancelled permanently.
- B. Revision is a strength because explanations are expected to respond to new data rather than remain fixed.
- C. The main participants refused to take part.
